THE MICROCOSM

Mic, as is commonly known, is the Simmons College yearbook. Its name, Microcosm, which means "little world" is most significant since Mic aims to bring together in one volume the record of the academic year at Simmons. Formal senior portraits, more popular candid shots of college personalities, accounts of the various organizations for the current year, and flashes of such exciting affairs as Daisy Chain and Old English Dinner—all in one.

In November we staged the first all-college formal of the year at the Statler, with Allan Curtis doing the honors.

Mic owes much of its success to the fine coöperation of its staff members, but above all to faculty friends, to Mr. Playfair, its adviser, and to the many assistants in the offices who have answered our never-ending questions. We also are indebted to Mr. Knight of the Bickford Engraving Company and Mr. Valz of Andover Press for helpful advice and suggestions.

Student Government Association

Janette Christie
President

The Student Government Association, of which every student is a member, is the most important organization at Simmons College. The weekly meetings of the twelve Student Government Council members have been mainly to find a way to arouse a greater enthusiasm and concern for student problems.

Helpful suggestions have come from students through the new "Stu G Box" and from the National Student Federation of America with which the Simmons College Student Government Association reaffiliated itself this year.

The Association has also tried to further the interest in social activities by reorganizing the Social Activities Committee and giving informal dances on campus, Thursday teas in South Hall, and a series of lectures on various phases of group consciousness. The weekly column in News has attempted to show the student body that Student Government is ready and willing to help solve their problems and eager to have their coöperation in all the matters that come up for consideration.

Dormitory Council

THE Dormitory Council is the branch of the Student Government Association which regulates the dormitory life of the students. Within this body come the enforcement of dormitory rules, quiet hours and late permissions, the plans for the betterment of the existing regulations, and ideas for broadening the social life of the resident students.

Suggestions are presented through the Dormitory Council to Student Government Council for ratification and are then sent to the Dormitory Advisory Board for final sanction.

The Council is made up of the vice-president of Student Government, who is the chairman; the chairman of the Social Activities Committee; and the house chairmen from the dormitories on campus and from the Francis Street group.

Honor Committee

WHETHER you have liked and appreciated the privilege of being responsible for your own academic conduct throughout your years at Simmons, or whether you have been indifferent to or critical of the Honor System, you have had a part in shaping its record of more than twenty-five years of effectiveness and of a steady decrease in reported violations during that time.

It seems reasonable to conclude that the system of having every student be capable of assuming responsibility for her own conduct in examinations and written work is not too ideal to be a workable substitute for the less complimentary system of proctoring.

The Honor Committee, which is composed of four Seniors, three Juniors, one Sophomore and one Freshman, with the President of Student Government and the Chairman of Dormitory Board ex-officio, acts on all cases of violations of Honor System and takes steps necessary to maintain or improve that system.

ANOTHER branch of the Student Government Association is the Dormitory Board. This group is made up of the vice-president of Student Government Council, who acts as the chairman; the president of Student Government Council and the Chairman of Honor Committee who are members ex-officio; three seniors, two juniors, one sophomore and one freshman who are elected from the Dormitory Council.

The Dormitory Board exists for the purpose of considering all offenses against Student Government regulations regarding dormitory life. The Board has as its aim the education of all students in the Council's policies rather than exemplary punishment.

THE Advisory Committee was formed for the purpose of aiding the students in their dormitory problems. The committee is composed of the Dean, three members of the instructing staff who are graduates of the college and are appointed by the President, and three members of the Student Government Council.

All dormitory rules and questions proposed by the Student Government Council are referred to this committee, which discusses them freely. On the basis of the opinion expressed in these meetings, the Dean accepts or rejects the submitted proposals.

Academy

We felt very dignified and intellectual when we first wore our blue and gold ribbons against the black of our gowns. Of course, we've tried to hold high the torch of Academy traditions passed on to us, but the Academy members of 1938 have shown so much gayety and vivacity that no amount of the dignity and restraint of tradition could crush their natural enthusiasm.

The welcoming of new members was changed very pleasantly from a formal banquet to a mellow and charming reception with good music and a pleasing reader. The varied tastes of Academy members have been satisfied by a "Professor Quiz" contest at a tea, by a theater party, a sightseeing trip and a fine evening spent at the home of our adviser, Mrs. Wadsworth.

Social Activities Committee

The Social Activities committee is no longer merely the organization which plans faculty dinners and formal dinners, for this past year it has become a unit of the entire college. It has sponsored dances on campus which commuters and dormitory students have been invited to attend and has inaugurated a series of lectures to awaken group consciousness in freshman students. The Committee has also attempted to help all other organizations in their plans for social functions.

Perhaps the most successful plan which has been adopted this year is the serving of tea every Thursday in South Hall. The teas are open to all the college and students may bring guests.

Now that the Committee is an active one it hopes that the college will continue in helping its growth.

THERE was a time when being a member of the Assembly Committee meant having the softest job at Simmons. All you had to do was "to reflect the student opinion on the assemblies."

But ever since those cute little tykes from Vienna attracted such a mob, the Assembly Committee has had to meet the problems of keeping our hall orderly. Naturally we want our guests to think that Simmons girls are nice, and that's why you see the capped-and-gowned Seniors standing around asking you to "fill in the front seats, please."

Forum

B. Davis E. Simpson

FORUM endeavors to broaden the students' outlook by presenting speakers on subjects of outside, current interest. These subjects range from discussions on the wars in China and Spain to consideration of the problems relative to socialized medicine. Coffee is served at these informal after-dinner get-togethers in the North or South Hall living room, and everyone is urged to be present. The meetings help to lift our minds from thoughts of physics, history, biology, and next week's date to vital matters of the world today. Discussions and question periods follow which give us opportunity to express our own opinions and to hear the views of our classmates.

Anne Strong Club

B. Gowing, R. Gray, M. Doyle, K. Nixon.

The Anne Strong Club, organized in 1933, has as its purpose the promotion of friendships among the Nursing School students outside of their classrooms, and also the formation of a bond between the students at Simmons and those affiliated with various hospitals. Monthly meetings are held at which interesting speakers in the nursing and medical fields address the members.

At the January meeting, a capping ceremony is held in the Lounge. At this time caps are given to the Juniors who are leaving the college to begin their two years of affiliation with various hospitals.

This year, the Freshmen planning to enter the Nursing School were allowed to have associate membership in the organization and thus could get acquainted with some of the joys and trials of their profession.

Life does not consist entirely of test tubes, smocks, and pungent odors for the girls of the General Science School. The Ellen Richards Club demonstrates to the girls how their laboratory work and scientific courses will be of use to them in later life by engaging men and women well informed in the various fields of science, in Chemistry, Biology, and Physics, to speak at their frequent teas.

The Ellen Richards Club also indulges in frivolities, the most important being the Ellen Richards Birthday party in December. The initiation of the sophomores in the fall is another important event.

There really was an Ellen Richards: she was the first woman to graduate from M.I.T., and appropriately enough her name has been adopted by the science club of Simmons.

English Club

English School girls have taken a renewed interest in English Club this year. They have been drawn together by a desire to make their magazine, Per-Simmons, successful in both a literary and financial sense.

The publication of Per-Simmons is an important function because it affords an opportunity to aspiring young Simmons authors who are eager to find their way into print.

Representatives of literary, newspaper, and dramatic circles of Boston, speaking at English Club teas, have also stimulated interest in the club. These speakers have a great deal to tell that is of interest to students who plan to go into some type of literary work as a profession.

Home Economics Club

With membership extended to everyone in the Home Economics school the Simmons Home Ec Club tries, with a varied program, to acquaint each girl with her field. By coöperating with the mending service, catering, and food sales carried on in the college by the club, practical experience is gained. Our interest in professional societies is strengthened by club affiliation with the New England Home Economics Association, the Massachusetts Home Economics Association, and the National Home Economics Association, and by meetings with other student Home Ec Clubs. Contact with the outside world is obtained through teas which are held once a month when speakers, engaged in various phases of home economics, address the club. Our annual banquet in May climaxes the year when the new officers are installed and freshmen welcomed to the club. The Simmons Home Ec Club tries, by coöperation within the college and association with outside sources, to give its members a background for future work.

Scribunal Club—practically a brand new club for our sister secretaries, formed in early 1937—has come to a prominent spot in the college life.

The officers this year have striven to provide a period of relaxation to its members at its monthly meetings—to forget for the moment the pen and notebook and practical business problems. But of course we don't stray too far from the subject as all the members are interested in this line.

The outstanding highlight of this season has been the amateur variety show put on with a cast of secretaries cavorting about the stage with all the talent of seasoned troopers. The faculty proved what good sports they were by participating in a surprise sketch which brought down the house.

THE numbers 020, according to the Dewey Decimal Classification, so familiar to Simmons library school students, stands for Library Economy, and so serves as an excellent symbol for the club of Library school juniors and seniors.

This year the club has had several interesting teas, including a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Henkle, Miss Leonard, and Miss Buffum, welcoming them to Simmons; an auditory trip around the world with Miss Blunt, a member of the Library school staff; and a bristling talk by Miss Edith Guerrier, Branch Librarian of the Boston Public Library, who charmed all with her sparkling humor.

Newman Club

E. Gainey, A. O'Connor, M. Harrigan, M. Duggan.

The Newman Club offers excellent opportunity for Catholic girls at Simmons to participate in current social, intellectual, and spiritual activities within the College and also with other colleges. Affiliated with the New England Federation of College Catholic Clubs and with the National Federation of Newman Clubs, members enjoy with them communion breakfasts, suppers, dances, joint meetings, and a retreat.

This year the Club has become interested in Catholic literature and its vital significance in the crises of the present day as well as to the individual herself. The Student Counsellor at Boston College has been particularly helpful in furthering our ambition to be mentally alive to these problems.

The Newman Club has enlisted interest and support in the movement toward a better understanding of all religious clubs. Thus, through a combination and a variety of interests, it is the fond hope of Newman that its spirit may include and stimulate all comers.

Unity Club brings together students and faculty of all liberal religious faiths, for good times and the exchange of ideas. We have met once a month in the Lounge with a speaker and tea, and in the spring we joined the "Y" and the other religious clubs in sponsoring an All-College Religious Conference.

The club also affiliated through the Boston Inter-Collegiate Council with the Unity Clubs of nearby schools and members have had opportunity to meet other college students at conferences, outings, and the monthly Town and Gown dances.

This year our annual formal was held jointly with the Simmons Newman Club and the "dance merger" was pronounced a real success.

American Student Union

This year the A.S.U. has carried out a few ideals for which it stands. The second-hand book store proposed by A.S.U. illustrates an effort to better conditions for all students. Being of service to the student is just one of the activities; helping the student to achieve a better understanding of issues confronting the world is another. The members adopted the slogan "Wear Lisle for Awhile" in their boycott of Japanese goods and conducted a drive to aid the women and children of the People's Front in Spain. Peace, academic freedom, and racial equality are all part of the program which contributes to the extra-curricular intellectual life of the American Student today.

Y. W. C. A.

There is always something doing in the "Y"—if it isn't a National Conference, it's an International Tea! Kinsolving or Sherwood Eddy, a Hallowe'en or Freshman Party and teas have a big place in our program along with the Fireside Suppers. These are held at the Metropolitan Student Headquarters in the Boston Y.W.C.A. each Friday night where we gather for an evening's relaxation. Perhaps there will be the spontaneous singing of negro spirituals, or a bit of close harmony. On the other hand, an old-fashioned "bull session" may take up the evening.

But there is the serious side, too. The high spot of this year was the National Student Assembly at Oxford, Ohio to which the Simmons "Y" sent eight delegates. Continuing the program outlined there, the New England conference at O-At-Ka in June was opened to all interested in the Student Christian movement.

So if you like Student-Faculty suppers, discussion groups, conferences, and a lot of fun—come to the "Y"!

Per-Simmons

M. Duggan, P. Lima, E. Morgan, A. Hicks, A. Woodward.

STILL in the process of evolution, Per-Simmons this year grew into a four-issue magazine, coming out in November, January, March, and May.

Since its birth in 1930 as an unpretentious literary supplement to the Simmons News, Per-Simmons has made great strides. In 1932, it outgrew the strict limitations of newspaper form and expanded into a full-fledged magazine.

In 1933 it declared its independence and separated itself from the News; and in 1936, though still remaining an all-college magazine, it came under the management of the English school.

This year the last two issues were given a professional touch when they were put out by students in Advanced Composition and Publishing.

The Simmons News

P. Lima, M. Kornetz, B. Paragallo, R. Lanigan, B. Cox, M. Logan, E. Sternberg, C. Nutter.

Covering events at Simmons is the job of The Simmons News. An all-college publication, News employs more than 70 members of the student body.

This year the staff has stressed the "professional attitude" and the technical make-up of the paper, experimenting with its "show window." The aim is always to entertain as well as inform, for News editors have always had a sneaking suspicion that the average reader turns first to Dear Diary or the Social News.

Life on the college weekly is not all toil, for there are occasional teas, the annual banquet at which elections are announced, and the event of the winter season, News Dance.

A goodly mixture of fun and work, an attempt to mirror life at Simmons, that's News. Headlines and bylines and deadlines—and, out of the chaos of Editors' Room, copy for Louis, the printer, and 1500 copies off the press every Thursday afternoon!

The Alentour

On April 11, 1938, the Poetry Club was formally christened the Alentour at a tea given in honor of the event. Mr. John Holmes, professor of English at Tufts College and well-known poet, was guest speaker. Permission to use the name was obtained from Michael Largay, editor of the magazine, The Alentour. "Alentour" was the name of the stables of Zeus, from which Pegasus, muse of poetic inspiration, came.

Instrumental in gaining this permission and in bringing the Alentour into being were Elizabeth Trickey, Margaret Higginbotham, and Enid Morgan.

This club has bi-monthly meetings at which significant poets and their poetry are discussed, and monthly teas at which guest speakers are featured. Those members who desire to do so write poetry, but creative ability is not a requisite for membership in the Alentour.

Art Club

PHOTOGRAPHERS, Puppeteers, artists, and block printers get their heads together and have a grand time at the Art Club sessions.

The more "arty" side of the club features the art class where sketching, in pencil, charcoal, and pastel are taught along with painting and block printing. The photography class, consisting of everything from novices to pro's, take, develop, and print their own pictures. Some of the more valiant even attempt enlarging.

The picture lending library which the club has started has greatly enlarged since the beginning of the year. Through donations, the club has bought some fine reproductions of famous paintings which it rents out to members of the student body (and to the teachers who allow art to enter their budget)!

The Art Club Penny Party has become a tradition with the school. All the club members chip in and exploit their talents for the lowly penny.

The club's monthly teas bring forth speakers who talk art from every angle; speed and color photography, advertising art, modern art, stage scenery, and thoroughbred art.

ORIGINALITY!—The Dramatic Club was original this year in organization and activity.

One novelty feature was the "Mummers," a secret society to which members are elected who show some degree of merit either in acting or stage craft.

Another attraction was the group system by which the entire Dramatic Club was divided into astronomical sections such as the Sagittaricus and Aquittaricus. These groups put on plays at special meetings. No scenery was allowed; it was "drama for drama's sake."

The main feature was the all-college play, Rachel Crother's smashing comedy, Let Us Be Gay, given in April.

Poster Committee is for those at Simmons who are interested and talented in creating Poster Art. It is a chance for expression of ideas in publicity for college occasions: club meetings, assemblies, dances, plays, and many other prominent affairs in the school year. It aims for attractive, colorful, and informative advertising. Occasional meetings are held for informal discussions on posters to increase our skill and talent in poster composition. In the spring a poster exhibit competition is held, with prizes awarded to the most outstanding work.

Scout Club

"It is a joyful quest we are all following together, dear Girl Scouts, and we find that the joy of the quest is the comradeship it brings. The working together, the playing together, the seeking together. All that we get we share with others, and always some other good Girl Scout is sharing with us."

These are the words of Simmons' former dean, the well-loved Sarah Louise Arnold, printed in her book The Way of Understanding. They express ideally the spirit and aims of the Simmons Girl Scout Club. Whether at meetings, the annual settlement house Hallowe'en party, or Cedar Hill outing, comradeship is everywhere in evidence, and it is for this purpose that the S.G.S. Club has been founded—to foster coöperation and friendliness among the Girl Scouts of Simmons.

Musical Association

The Musical Association has completed another successful year. We attempted to make our organization appeal to everyone who liked music.

During the year several concerts were given, one of which opened a series of musical programs given at Georgetown, Massachusetts by the glee clubs of various colleges.

The high light of the year was the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta H.M.S. Pinafore, which we performed in collaboration with the Men's Glee Club of Northeastern University.

Athletic Association

Standing: M. Zoza, R. Kirton, M. Kharfen.
Seated: V. Beal, M. Eggleton, E. Ray, President; E. Osborne, J. Carpenter.

During the past few years, the Simmons Athletic Association has realized that those sports in which the students participate individually have proved the most popular. Tennis, ping-pong, archery, riding, and swimming are among these. The policy of the Athletic Association in maintaining an adequate number as well as a variety of sports will probably be revised in the future in order to direct its activity to that type of sports in which student interest lies.

Activity, however, is not concentrated on athletics alone. As contributions to the social life at Simmons, the Athletic Association boasts of teas, an all-college formal dance, and an annual athletic banquet when all awards are presented.

Features

Daisy Chain

On Class Day, about forty Juniors carrying the Daisy Chain, proudly escort the Seniors across the Campus from Brookline House through the North Hall Colonnade to the South Hall Colonnade where the Seniors form in a group for singing. When they have finished, the Juniors for the first time take their place on the Colonnade and while they are singing the Seniors plant their traditional ivy.

The Daisy Chain is made entirely by Juniors. The daisies are gathered for two days before Class Day from the Arboretum and by all the highways and byways, and are entwined on a long rope completely covering it. Usually there is a mad dash in the morning for extra daisies and cars are commandeered, fields invaded, but by afternoon all's well and the lovely chain is completed.

Old English Dinner

THE Wednesday before Christmas vacation, our twentieth century refectory is converted into a feudal dining hall and Simmons girls are put back into the eighth century at the Old English Dinner holiday celebration. On the dais at a simple wooden table trimmed with strips of pine branches sit the Lady of the Manor, Janette Christie, and the ladies of the nobility. Below them at candle lit tables are the lesser nobility and vassals.

The time of Beowulf is sharply brought to mind with the entrance of the boar's head carried about the room by the pages to the singing of The Boar's Head. No less thrilling is the sight of the flaming plum pudding which brings a final satisfaction to the palates of everyone.

With Dorothy Brickman announcing and Millie Kharfen jesting, the entertainment proceeds at a merry pace. Rita Williams, in charge of the Christmas play, succeeds in making it a hilarious comedy worth laughing at. Janie Thompson, as Santa Claus, does a superb job of inappropriate trucking. The chorus furnishes beautiful Christmas songs.

This 1937 Old English Dinner, under the direction of Lillian Fontaine, was one we'll always remember for its medieval splendor and fun.

The Weathervane on Faneuil Hall is a heavy copper grasshopper fashioned by the hand of Deacon Shem Drowne in 1742. It fell to the ground during the earthquake that visited Boston in 1775. It suffered a like fate when Faneuil Hall was burned in 1761 and again by accident in 1889. But though often repaired it is still in place above the dome on the CRADLE OF LIBERTY.

Good Yearbooks Don't "Just Happen"

THEY may vary tremendously in size, design, and cost, but all successful yearbooks have one thing in common—they represent hours of careful planning and painstaking workmanship.

This volume is no exception. The staff has worked long and diligently in order to make it an interesting record of the class and school.

It has been our privilege to assist in the publication of the book, working in close association with the members of the board. We wish to take this opportunity to thank them for their co-operation and to congratulate them on the results of their labors.
